

C-TRAN Transit Center Site Selection

Project Outline

C-TRAN provides transit service to the Vancouver, WA urban growth area. Its downtown Vancouver transit center had become outdated and dysfunctional. The agency wanted to evaluate options for a new downtown transit center. Perteet was selected as prime contractor and GVA Kidder Mathews, as subconsultant, provided real estate services.

Services Provided

GVA Kidder Mathews worked collaboratively with the transit planners to identify potential transit center sites, researched ownership and title issues, participated in community meetings, worked with the project architects to evaluate the potential for co-development of each site, and help the agency narrow the possible sites to a preferred alternative.

Result

The work informed a discussion between C-TRAN and the City of Vancouver about the future location of the downtown transit center.

Team

Prime Consultant was Perteet. Subconsultant was GVA Kidder Mathews, Blair Howe.
